What's On This Month In Berlin

What's On Germany

Berlin Hub Team
Updated: 1 August 2016

It's hard to believe we are already two-thirds of the way through Berlin's glorious summer, but this is all the more reason to get out and enjoy all that the city has to offer. Some of Berlin's most legendary events are going down in August, including the Berlin Atonal and the Young Euro Classic. There are also plenty of exclusive opportunities to see the city in new ways and to sample its many culinary delights. We've made sorting your August social calendar easy with these unmissable events.

ART | Project Space Festival

MAR 21 1st – 31st August

It's no secret at this point that Berlin is host to some of the most original and interesting artistic installations in the world. Now it has this year's Project Space Festival to add to its repertoire. Starting on the 1st of August and spanning until the very end of the month, this series of events invites people to get better acquainted with Berlin's independent art scene.

DRINK | International Beer Festival

MAR 21 5th – 7th August

Let's be honest. One of the first things that come to mind when thinking of German culture is an affinity for beer. It's nothing to be ashamed of really, and the International Beer Festival proves it. For one weekend, this three-day festival in Friedrichshain will host 340 breweries representing 87 countries, serving upwards of 2400 varieties of beer.

Free admission

ART | Opening: Dada Africa

 5th August – 7 November

The Dadaists are a force to be reckoned with in the realm of the avant-garde. Commemorate the centennial anniversary of this movement's emergence at Berlinische Galerie with the opening of Dada Africa, which focuses on 'dialogue with the other.' The exhibition exposes viewers to Dada beyond Europe through the 120 works presented here.

FOOD | Ice Cream Festival

 6th–7th August

Berliners love their eis: there is no doubt about that. With August comes Berlin's first annual Ice Cream Festival. While 'ice cream festival' has a nice ring to it, a piece of crucial information is missing: this event will also be featuring plenty of sorbet, popsicles, and slushies in addition to the classic Kugel in der Waffel.

 Location TBA (at one of the Berlin Arena's affiliates)

MUSIC | Hip Hop Beach Festival

 7th August

Head over to everyone's favorite place to cool off for Berlin's Hip Hop Beach Festival at Badeschiff. As if the famous pool in the river Spree wasn't enough to attract us, DJs will be spinning old and new hip-hop tracks from 2-10pm. This is the ideal spot for those who are tired of techno but would still like to be part of the in-crowd.

Tickets € 14.50 – € 17.50
